

Lift Up The Girl Stuck In The Mud Of The Trick Or Treat Sand Storm

November 2, 2012

Seeing the little girl crying in fear amidst the standing water made me open my eyes and think about the devastation that had just occurred the last few days in the Eastern United States. In my mind I am wondering where that little girl is and if she does exist how can I get help to her? All of the heads that I thought would help this country have dollar signs in their blackened eyes. The media flashed some quick episodes of the tragic and then went straight to how much money was being made and how many jobs this horrible nightmare would bring in. The Children and Families have not even been all found yet, how can money be counted? There are no gains in a situation like this.

I tried to go back to sleep and then I saw slated souls encompassing the world and diving in to help. I am glad that I was shown the truth about these slated souls because now I know that they actually do exist, whereas before I did not believe. I had seen slated souls encompassing the earth like this before during the terrorist attack on North Africa in 2011, but this time these souls seemed to be on a rebound, or on a second mission. These souls that are compassing our Eastern Shores are souls that have been slated there from before, and it is obvious to me that they see things differently than monetarily. Maybe the slated souls heard me asking somebody to help that little girl. I hope so.

I am in no position to go to the East Coast and help, although I would in a second if somebody provided the facility for me to do so. The rich and power moguls have stripped me of my assets and resources and try to falsely claim be as being in debt, but I am the actual owner of the most shares and it goes back even further than the Lincoln Freeway. Yet, I have no phone or the internet to call about the little girl that nobody knows about. There is no one around her; she is in the middle of the disaster. Why can't the media see her? Why can't anybody hear her? She is right there in the middle of it all! How can people be so blind to see this illusionary money and not even be able to see this soul crying out for help?

It would be wrong to call these disasters natural because they are occurring from the raping of the resources of my lands and of land that belongs to others, too. It was well known for centuries that forgoing resource extractions on McCreary's Ridge in West Virginia would destroy the planet, and yet fraudulent production occurred. I was told personally by Kirtanananda Swami, as we laid the Cornerstone for the Temple of Understanding's Gateway, the Maha Dwarm, that Srila Prabhupada said that we needed to get that Temple built there fast so that the land isn't mined under and that if and when it reached the gas extraction phase it would mean that the final stages of world annihilation was set. People that lived around that area confirmed it to be true and now the world being torn inside out is another confirmation to me.

The sad part is that nobody will even admit the truth as that little girl stands in the cold crying and wondering why this has been done to her. I remember hearing in one of Bhaktipada's lectures from the Song Of God that the things in this material world that bring pleasure to us usually end up causing suffering. I can see this happening to this little girl as with everybody there. We enjoy bathing in each other's companionship and showering in one another's love, but have given it up for a greed that is but temporary and only ends up causes suffering.

It's hard to write about souls and things that don't seem like we can touch, but the heart feels in different ways. It was the soul of an Auto Baron that was slated that called out what could help the other morning as I woke. I knew by the shout that it was urgent and so I dived into the books and researched as best as I could. I could see the answers were in front of me and I could now put it all together because Walter gave me the answer, but this too will only temporarily help because of constant occurring changes. I still think it was horrible the way Walter was zapped and then said to rest in peace. He is a genius and is not going to stop coming to this earth until the corruption is stopped from completely taking over his company. I don't care if nobody can hear him and I don't care if nobody believes me because the truth is that I never would have been able to know all of this by myself.

I tried so many things. I was right from the get go. They should have just given me Ram like I said and given Walter's Brother Jeep because we are the actual true owners of those shares and I was shown that truth that I really hope isn't dug up or we all will be thrown straight to the other side of the world in bits and pieces, and back again rebounding from the refluxes. Walter showed me the truth about my shares and how they have spread across the world and are now prevalent everywhere and how my three quarters shares and his brother's quarter had risen into trillions upon Godzillions. This really showed the truth to me of how bad things are that the God has turned to me. I'm sometimes a klutz and have a tendency to have to lean on others or hold onto arms to gain balance. Because of this klutziness I have learned to try to find some type of precautions. This takes a lot of research, time and hard work.

I wrote to everybody claiming my shares and the world got all hog tied up and green with greed and turned sour and took my shares and misrepresented me, my LLCs, and my true intentions. Gains that were made weren't put into saving Detroit because that will save the World, and instead were put into mining diamonds in Africa, the place where these storms are whirling from and where miners are on the front lines at this moment.

All in all, I still need my shares and do not approve of any of my shares being used to harm others. I have to help the International Cities Of God to manifest here on Earth like I promised Srila Prabhupada I would do when I was initiated by Kirtanananda Swami on behalf of Srila Prabhupada to fulfill His Mission to save this World and Everybody.

One of the greatest gifts God has given humankind is the ability to think and remember Him and from this we have the intelligence to do almost anything as long as it goes along the line of learning how to love God, which is emphasized in Kirtanananda Swami's Book How To Love God. It is a waste to misuse this gift or to take advantage of it. It was wrong to take Bhaktipada's Teachings and Prabhupada's Translations to develop systems and things like the Colored TV, Digital, and Missile and Atom Bomb Technologies that are a threat to humankind when that was never the intentions of any of the Disciplic Succession. All of this technology is from the Greeks anyway. It is in all of the writings which all lead to the same beginning civilization of humans that spread across the world and used different languages for communications. It is unfair to use Bhaktipada's dreams to create the internet from and then to beat, rape and chase him to the other side of the world and take over his dreams. It was wrong for these culprets to rape us and our Children and run us off from the land that Bhaktipada gave to us because this truth is in Srila Prabhupada's translations. His dreams that were meant for loving God were taken and used for self gain and greed by others and were supposed to be used to give glory to God to uplift mankind with.

As I have been researching these last few years I have noticed that what we are doing to Mother Earth is the exact same thing that is happening to the human bodies as a result of what we are doing to Mother Earth. This amazingly goes right along with what Srila Prabhupada meant about the greatest pleasures of this material world turning into the biggest problems that cause the most suffering.

During all of this I just keep studying because I know that one of the first messages from God was that if I die everybody dies. I pulled out all the records to find out what could make everybody die and it is a result of the resource theft on McCreary's Ridge. The truth is in the processing. The gas stage never would have been unless the land was mined first. It is disappointing that people can't even think logically anymore and that they are so self mutilation. What happened to the laws that govern our lands? What happened to homeland security? Where are our securities? They aren't in those wireless systems because those systems are not of this earth as we are. In this one sentence we can see the truth that our true securities are in us and our lands, and as law has it we are in possession of our lands as United States citizens and possession is ninety percent of the law, so we are the true owners of the most shares of the utility companies and all of the industries. This is why attempts were made to sway businesses away from here, but guess what "We are one nation under God", so God rules and has so kindly given us intelligence to help Him rule.

The truth is that when the utility companies forced buyouts of mineral rights in the 1960's and 1970's it was supposed to be for the welfare of the citizens and of our country. These companies are now bought out by foreign companies due to the wrongful resource extraction of my lands that brought on unjust gains, investments wrongly made, interest occurred and reinvestments were wrongly established from these resources being sold under the table, which created faulty incomes and investments. It is not in the best welfare of the people or our country to have our industries owned totally by foreigners because they are not and cannot be offered equal opportunity at maintaining such facilities and utilities because of homeland security issues. The facts are everywhere. The electrical facilities are rusty and outdated. The oil lines are leaking all over the place. The nuke plants were never designed properly and are leaking constantly. The mines are too massive and are filling up with gasses. The gases are blowing up and leaving everything toxic, especially the water. We the people, have rights to take these facilities back so that we can live safely.

It is the same with the internet. It belongs to us, the United States citizens and we have all rights to it. The program companies need to pay us for using our facility along with the cable companies, advertising companies and the world governments. We are not in debt to anybody. We were supposed to be able to have the internet for free through schools, libraries and other public buildings because it is ours and we do own all rights because we own the technology.

Look around at all of our assets and funds being shipped to help others. What countries came instantly to help us during this and other hurricane disasters, the tornado disasters, or the out of control forest fires? Did any of those countries help when the facilities they bought shares in because hazardous and disastrous? They watched and watched and did nothing. That is why we have states that are united; so that we are there to help one another and not just thrash out each other all the time. By now we should be able to have friendly relations with neighbors, too. It shouldn't take the greed to gain from more construction from the after affects of these disasters to bring countries to work together. This is going way overboard on replacing housing. The forests are already devastated, so I guess the straw houses will have to do. The deciduous trees are invested and processing from these resources should be done in the areas where the trees are grown. This has to be dealt with and kept under containment. To me it's good because it works right along with my Build It Here, Ship It There; Anywhere proposal.

We have the facilities to communicate properly. When are we going to distribute these opportunities fairly? Maybe the little girl in my dream is to remind me of where we all are or could be in any changing winds, but I see this dream as an opportunity to reinstate my IWE's Fresh Zones idea that was one of my first promos to save the World and Everybody. This time I really hope pepsi or nobody else takes it and wrongly uses it for just an online promo that uses others ideas, but gives no just credits or rewards.

If anybody on the East Coast sees that little girl standing in fear and crying out for her life, please lift her up in your arms and guide her to safety. Don't think about the cost or about how much monetary gain or fame there might or might not be. Please, just lift her up and save her. We can build IWE's first Fresh Zone in her spot since everything else around her was crumbled and toppled over.

Thank The Good Lord For Sending Heroes To Protect And Save Us All!

God Bless All Of America And Our Heritages!

With Love Always,

Lala

Bhaktipada is right – Prabhupada is King!

The Temple Of Understanding was supposed to be built by 1995 and the City Of God in New Vrindaban, West Virginia was supposed to be completed by the year 2000 with others being established by then worldwide. Our funds and resources were wrongfully dispersed everywhere and we, the true owners of Hayagriva's and Bhaktipada's lands, need these funds and resources now to build 108 International Cities Of God in every continent. Money is actually a mechanism for people to use, so it is useless to use it to destroy people with.

May there be peace in the heavens... may there be peace on earth... the good Lord is peace..., peace...peace... may peace be with you.....

For The Glory Of God And The Upliftment Of Mankind!
